Murrie Gets 3-1 Margin Over Mazzuca for Supervisor Post

Piling up big leads in every precinct, Antioch Township Supervisor Lloyd E. (Red) Murrie won over insurance man George J. Mazzuca by a 3 to 1 margin in the supervisor election Tuesday.

Murrie collected 1202 votes to Mazzuca's 393 and thus won his second term in the important office on the county board of supervisors.

THE CLOSEST THE race came was in the fourth precinct, Mazzuca's home voting area, where the incumbent garnered 216 ballots to his competitor's 150. In downtown Antioch at precinct one, Murrie had a 10-1 margin.

The number of ballots cast was larger than officials had anticipated and was termed a "good" turnout by Clerk L. R. Van Fatten.

Largest vote-getter for the day was Robert Runyard, highway commissioner who was unopposed. He got 1370 votes and is doubly happy this week as his salary was increased to $20 per day at the township meeting last week.

THE ONLY OTHER contested office, that of justice of the peace, Harold Wilson, the present officeholder, and Ted Kaptain were elected. John Delaney came in third. Wilson got 674 votes and Kaptain followed with 466 tallies. Delaney trailed with 356 count.

Library trustees Robert Kresse and Helen Scott both repeated as winners with 971 and 1309 votes respectively.

The precinct totals:

Precinct	1	2	3	4	5	6
Murrie	314	243	101	216	150	178
Mazzuca	36	41	34	150	50	82

Light Vote In Lake Villa Polling

In Lake Villa township a light election turnout put all contestants back in office as none were opposed. Largest vote-getter was Highway Commissioner Fred H. Popp who polled 439 votes to return to office.

Three library trustees were voted upon, two for a full term and one for an unexpired term. Warren O. Brown polled 402 votes and Robert L. Rollin got 371 for the regular term and Florence Yancey got 399 for the unexpired term of office.

Daylight saving time will go into effect here on April 26 at 2 a.m. the village board resolved Tuesday night. A legal notice in today's Antioch News defines the times and procedure for the annual summer time change-over. It will last until the last Sunday in October.

Two new police officers will go on trial basis in patrolling Lake Villa.

The village board Monday night gave its blessing to Albert DeLeyn and Keith Barnstable for a three month trial.

Official Suggests 4-Lane Road For Main St. In Reply To Repair Query

Letters sent to almost every legislator and road official are beginning to bear fruit for Antioch's attempts to get repairs made to Rt. 21-83 which is the village's main street.

Replies to the letters written during March were read at Tuesday's village board meeting and promises of assistance ranged from the introduction of the problem to proper state officials to a proposal to make Main St. through town a 4-lane roadway.

THE LETTERS were written after last month's meeting at which the terrible condition of the pavement was a topic of discussion. The most promising letter for aid was received from D. C. Magowan, Elgin, a district engineer for the state highway department.

He suggested that the village attempt to secure property for right-of-ways and also to get a reaction of the people on removal of trees

JP Write-In Only Upset in Salem Voting

A "fair" turnout of voters in Salem Township created only one upset, in Tuesday voting with the election of a write-in candidate to a justice of the peace post.

The unexpected victor was Edward Totten of Camp Lake who won out over two other candidates on the ballot. E. Ben Noble, an incumbent, gathered enough votes to be re-elected.

IN THE CONTESTED races for township supervisor, Neal J. Kiley with 428 votes and Lee Wilson with 424 ballots came out ahead of Donald Klapper and Gilbert Haisma. Assessor William Kavanagh was returned to office with a 560-416 plurality over John R. Severs.

Township chairman Earl Elfers, clerk Gerald Siebert and treasurer Alva Paddock were re-elected in uncontested races. Three constables were also returned to office. They are Preston Stoxen, Albert Johnson, Jr., and Leo Wazell.

ALTHOUGH THERE were 2,300 voters registered for this election, only 1,035 ballots were cast. However Siebert reported that the totals were fair compared with other parts of the state.

The totals:

	Pct. 1	Pct. 2	Total
Elfers	494	263	757
Siebert	626	288	914

Pick Date For Salem 'City' Meet

April 20 is the date chosen for the general meeting to present facts on the proposal to make Salem Township a fourth class city. It will be held at 8 p. m. in Central High School's giant gymnasium which will seat 3,000 persons.

The decision to hold the meeting was made Sunday at the directors' meeting of the Subdivision's Association whose officers were appointed to look into facts concerning the proposal and decide if a public meeting was warranted.

"WE'LL GIVE plenty of publicity to the meeting," said Richard Nuytens, secretary of the association, "and try to get everyone out who is interested in the plan."

In a statement announcing the meeting, Nuytens explained that his group was strictly neutral at the present time on this plan and that after the facts were presented, it is very likely that the association will take a stand.

Arrangements are being made now for qualified legal and authoritative speakers from the outside to present the good and bad points to the public, Nuytens said. It is hoped that a complete roster of the speakers and their background can be given next week.

Nuytens said that persons who now stand for and those against the proposal to convert the 34 square mile township into a fourth class city would have a chance to be heard during the meeting. However, the meeting will not be allowed to get out of balance with views of all those on one side overpowering opposite ideas. Gilbert Elsfelder, president of the Subdivision Association will preside at the meeting.

Main St. Angle Parking Out

Angle parking will be eliminated on Antioch's Main St. as soon as parking meter posts can be changed.

That action was assured Tuesday night when village officials noted that the present system contributes to snarled traffic. When eliminated the traffic may be speeded by as much as 20 per cent.

THE VILLAGE WILL lose about seven parking meter stalls as a result of the change recommended by Edgar Simonsen, street superintendent, and Walter Scott, police chief.

The Antioch News suggested such a change two months ago.

Fox Lake Hills to Co. Board: Quit Using Us as Screen for Own Faults

Residents of the Fox Lake Hills area Monday night took a poke at the County Board of Review over the 1,600 tax evaluation protests filed from Lake Villa Township and called upon the board to "quit using Lake Villa for a smokescreen to hide your own inadequacies."

Spokesman for the Fox Lake Hills Property Owners Assn., Mrs. Julia Chonis, said that the meeting Monday was a closed board meeting attended by about 12 persons, the committee heads of that group. The association is the representative group of the home owners in the fast growing subdivision in far western Lake Villa township.

"WE RESENT BEING called 'tax grippers'," Mrs. Chonis said. "A tax griper is one who complains unjustly and constantly. We feel we are exercising our rights as citizens and taxpayers."

If more than 3,000 protest their assessments in the county, there must be some inequities, the association feels. Only two waivers had been received in the area this week, both calling for degraded house values and upgrade land values. One total was reduced $2,690 and one diminished by only $130.

More than 200 have been returned by residents in other parts of the townships. The association will wait until more waivers are received before attempting to advise its members on whether to sign or reject the county solution to the problem.

HOWEVER, THE association did pose a question about the waivers asking what provisions have been made in changing the figures agreed upon by the taxpayer and the county in following years since the assessment in question is a quadrennial figure.

Residents of the area are highly indignant over what they call the county board's continual efforts to make it appear the protesting citizens are causing delay in tax bills being sent out.

"How can we who protest be responsible for late tax bills when some assessments have not been published yet?" Mrs. Chonis said. She noted that the association is still watching for publication of nearby Grant Township valuations.

The association also charged that publicity from the daily newspaper in Waukegan gives only the county side of the tax question and Waukegan residents do not hear the position of the residents of the western part of the county.

LV Township Threats Legal Action on County

Lake Villa Township will send a strongly-worded written note to the county Supervisor of Assessments voicing disapproval of his handling of township tax assessments.

Also an attorney will be hired for a special meeting on April 28 to find out if any legal action can be taken against the supervisor and the board of review.

A COMMITTEE OF Ed Tiede, Reeves Loomis and George Sebal was nominated to contact John Williams, the township attorney, and present the case to him. It will be up to this committee to secure services of another attorney if Williams can not accept the job.

That was the outcome of the annual town meeting of Lake Villa Township Tuesday night after general business involving a budget discussion was taken care of.

Edward Tiede, township supervisor, recommended that the appropriation on the budget be made this year at about the same level as last year but that the levy should be raised by about $5,000. He reported that the town or general fund is low because of the elimination of the township collector's office last year. The township received approximately $5,000 in excess commissions from this office.

THE LEVIES HAVE been set at $22,000 for the general fund, $11,000 for the general assistance or poor relief fund, and $10,000 for the library fund.

It was stressed at the meeting that just because the levy is set at a certain amount does not necessarily mean that they must spend that amount.

Other factors in arranging for a levy are non-payment of taxes and the collection fee charged by the county. This means that the township never collects the total amount of the levy.

IT WAS ALSO explained that a township cannot spend more than is appropriated. It then follows that the levy must be lower or equal to the appropriation, the township was told.

A resolution was passed to transfer $3,000 from the poor fund to the general fund. This will carry the general fund until such time as the tax money begins to come in. Without the transfer the township could possibly have been forced into tax anticipation warrants.

It was also decided to publish the supervisor's report in booklet form and mail to all tax paying residents of the township. This will give the people an itemized account of where their money goes.

To Retire Bonds In 15-Yrs. Under Tentative Plans

Final financing for the new Antioch Township High School proposal has been drawn up and the school board at its meeting Wednesday night was expected to approve a figure of $1,785,000 for the school.

The figure has received approval of the financial firm of Chapman and Cutler in Chicago and it remained for the board only to pass a resolution on the issue for it to be placed on the May 9 special election in the district.

ALTHOUGH THE somewhat awesome figure is expected to receive much adverse comment, the school board feels that a closer inspection of the need for new facilities and the ways out of the problem will show that this is the most economical path.

The figure to be chosen Wednesday night is less than the bonding limit allowed by law. The current Antioch tax assessments are reported for 1958 and are used but the board has to use old assessments for the part of the district lying within Lake Villa and Newport Townships. Tax protests are the reason for holding up final figures, the board says.

In all financial planning, the board has considered a maximum of student growth and needs and a minimum of valuation of property. For example the latter years of the bond retirement schedule have been figured on the estimated valuation of 1960.

IT IS EXPECTED that under the bonding structure chosen, the average increase to a taxpayer will be 17½ cents per $100 valuation and the costs are to be retired over 15 years. The maximum increase in the individual tax bill will be 26 cents for two years and will diminish to a low of 8 cents as the bonds near final payment dates.

To the taxpayer, the amount will represent an average increase over present high school taxes of $14 per year on an $8,000 home.

The 15 year retirement plan was decided to be best because of the amount of interest it would save over longer plans. Of the $1.7 figure, $546,000 will go as interest. Alternative plans were considered but as the length of time for amortization, increased, interest rates increased more rapidly.

THE VOTERS WILL vote on one two part question on the May ballot—whether to or not to allow the bond sale at the quoted figure and to purchase the 50 acre property at the corner of Deep Lake and Loon Lake Rds. for $20,000. The board holds an option on that property at present.

If approved, the new building can be expected to be started by about Aug. 1 and it will take two years to complete. It would be hoped that some classes could be in the school in the fall of 1960 for projected enrollment at the present building would be more than 200 students over capacity.

The building will be designed for an 1,800 student population but the first phase is for about 900 students. However, the first phase includes a complete school building with all special areas such as cafeteria, library, etc., built for the maximum size. The second phase would be only for classroom additions.

THE SCHOOL DISTRICT still is paying bonds for the addition made to the present building in 1951. That addition was built for 200 students at a cost of some $700,000.

Decision to build a new school building on "bargain" property was made after recommendations by the Citizens' Advisory Council, a 40-member group that has been studying the problem for more than a year. It was the feeling of that group that another addition to the present school would at best be only a stop-gap measure and in the long (continued on page 8)

The junior band in its part of the program will present five marches and waltzes, all from the pen of George Holmes.

The public is invited to attend.

DEAR READER News Editorials

RC Fund Drive Lags, Are Folks Growing Tired Of Giving So Often?

Further proof that some type of one-shot community fund charity collection campaign is needed here is the report from the Red Cross that at last report, not a single community has achieved its quota.

Further, the month-long fund drive is to be continued indefinitely. What's more, in our entire area (Zone B-Antioch, Avon, Grant, Lake Villa, Newport and Warren townships), only $1,399 of the $5,100 quota has been reported.

This just marks another in the recent series of charity fund campaigns that has not come up to expectations.

If they all fail individually, how can a much larger drive succeed for all? You may ask.

It couldn't be worse, we reply.

What About Fox River Project?

Governor Stratton has set a target date of late summer for letting contracts on seven dams on the Fox River. This is part of his program to add to water recreational purposes in the area.

Part one of the plan is for immediate construction of the dams plus a master plan for the long-range development of the river and money for boat launching and picnic areas along the various pools created by the dams.

Phase two is for continuation of construction of dams in accordance with the master plan, together with access area.

Luckily, the Fox River Development Commission has not recommended immediate construction of locks or boat lifts in the seven dams. But these will be provided in the master plan and will be added as other dams are constructed and all pools brought up to navigation levels.

Aside from benefits to a handful of boat owners, the possibility of flood control and perhaps a few picnic sites for residents of the immediate area seem to be about the only other persons to benefit from this gigantic project.

Do not discount the flood control item but it does seem that this project could very well be tabled for a later date—much later date—while the state spends its money on a few more important projects, such as rebuilding of that terrible Rt. 21-83.

So Maybe Ya Don't Know How To Speak Poifectly

An unique experiment was tried at the University of Illinois Chicago division recently in an attempt to train all students better in the use of the English language.

A yellow slip ballot was supplied to all faculty members. It was about three inches wide and six inches long, printed on violently yellow paper and gummed on its back edge for quick affixing to badly written papers in departments other than English. At the top was announced in bold, embarrassing capitals: "THE ENGLISH IN THIS PAPER IS NOT ACCEPTABLE."

Below, with ballot-like squares which could be quickly checked by a busy instructor, were three alternative choices. The first read: "It appears to be the result of carelessness. In the future I will expect you to write with more care."

The second was more harsh: "The English in this paper is so poor that your grade has been lowered. It would pay you to write with more care."

The third choice reads: "You should take this paper to your instructor in Rhetoric and discuss your writing problems with him. If you are not enrolled in Rhetoric, see the Rhetoric department secretary who will arrange for you an appointment with a Rhetoric teacher. Do this within the next week; then return this paper to me."

An English professor observes that the method is used because students do not write any better than they have to. And often they have a double set of standards for their writing. The better one they use in their composition class. The other they use in all other classes where they think they can get away with it. Usually they can.

The unusual educational procedure points up the fact that we do not know, or seem to care to know, the English language. Few there are out of school who give even a second thought to their English usage. And with no checks such as has the student, people murder their speech.

It would be surprising to every person if he could be given a test — for it would reveal not only how badly he mangles the language but also how much he does not know about it.

It's best to remember that half the people aren't interested in your personal troubles, while the other half are glad you're getting what you deserve.

LV Board Hears:

Door Slam Test Shows Prefab Houses Strong

A door slamming is the equivalent in impact to a wall of a 60 pound sandbag dropped 1 1/2 feet on a flat surface. The wall gives about 1/4 inch but springs back to less than 1/16 inch of its original place.

Those construction facts were important to the Lake Villa Village Board meeting Monday night as they reviewed a building permit which would allow the first prefabricated home to be constructed in the community.

The $11,000 home is under construction at the Allendale School for Boys by National Homes, Inc., under the contract awarded to Robert Heinz of Mundelein.

MEMBERS OF THE village board came to a deadlock in voting to allow the building permit because of a wall partition which is supported by 2x2 studs instead of 2x4 as specified in the building ordinance. However, a battery of engineers and lawyers presented the National Homes' case in attempting to prove that in strength, the thin wall conforms to code requirements. One engineer presented results of company tests on the walls which Trustee Anthony Sciacero noted were "the most complete" ever to be presented to the board.

The engineer said that besides simulated door slammings, the company has performed comparable tests on wind strengths. An average wind exerts a pressure of 15 pounds per square inch on a wall surface in which the walls in question stand up under very well. The test involved a 25 pound bag of sand as the equal of the wind.

FURTHER, THE engineer said, tests took the panel to the breakage level which is the equivalent of 70 pound sandbag. That's 2 1/2 times the average wind pressure, he noted.

Locked at 3-3 on whether to allow the permit, Village President Ervin Barnstable broke the tie with a yea vote because "I'm curious about the new building."

Members of the village board were invited to observe the prefabricated construction while it is being built and to see it after the house is finished. They also were invited to tour the National Homes plant to observe construction of the house members.

THE BOARD ALSO allowed other building permits for two remodeling jobs totaling $3,000 and to Hicksgas for a new $12,000 bulk plant on Soo Line Railroad property.

In other business, the board instructed Attorney Walter Juron to

Ordinance May Conflict With U. S. Constitution

An ordinance on the village books may be in conflict with the Constitution.

Though not enforced because there is no need for it, the law makes it unlawful to construct or maintain a barbed wire fence along the street line of any property where there is a board or plank sidewalk.

BUT, IF A PERSON refuses to remove the fence, the village may authorize someone to come on the property and remove it. The fourth and fifth amendments to the Constitution provide for protection of property against search and seizure, except for just cause and for payment for property taken. The ordinance does not.

However, Clarence Shultis, village clerk, notes there is not much danger of anyone being arrested or having property violated for there are no more barbed wire fences along the street lines.

Why Do Teachers Leave HS? Conditions Outlined by Readers

Antioch High School is a high school with a problem. Yet it is only possible to elaborate the obvious when speaking of the high school. To speak of particular happenings in relation to these problems will, in some cases, injure innocent parties, many of whom are not here to speak for themselves, thus enabling some people to twist the facts, and keep their own characters above reproach.

The teachers' solution to the problem has been to leave. This turnover ratio over 10 per cent is harmful to a school system. The facts show that for the past five years over 21 per cent of the teachers have departed and if this trend continues to next fall over 25 per cent will have left. There are only six classroom teachers presently at the high school who have been there for over four years. Primarily the cause of this mass departure is not for monetary reasons, and this exodus is obviously harmful to the education of the students.

WHY DO THE teachers leave? Privately the teachers who have left will give the real reasons for their leaving. However, as they need the recommendation of the administration to secure another position, they have not been free to publicize the internal strife and discord. Those teachers who have expressed their opinions to expose these conditions have received quick and lasting retaliation by the administration.

What are some of these conditions? The administration's support of the teachers in many areas is nonexistent. There is a definite lack of help given by the administration in discipline problems, especially with those involving beginning teachers. A letter concerning this was recently submitted to the School Board by a beginning teacher who has been dismissed because of this very problem. She had followed the administration's policies in discipline procedures. Why did she not receive help when she needed it?

OTHER PROBLEMS that exist include the following: The use of a non-published textbook in a basic subject is insisted upon by the administration, a book which, in the opinion of many, is completely inadequate. Also, teachers must continually defend their actions to the administration and when they have problems many are left to deal with them alone. Then, too, the last time an effort was made to try and bring school problems into the open, the teachers were severely reprimanded for engaging in school politics. Now, when the school referendum is being pushed and the teachers have indicated a desire to help, no disapproval has been voiced by the administration.

If the taxes are going to be raised to the limit to build a new school, is a new building going to solve the problems with which we are faced? So many complaints are being voiced and so much dissatisfaction is being indicated with the high school, that we should look first to the solution of this dissatisfaction before erecting another building that would house the same problems.

Undoubtedly an attempt will be made to whitewash these comments. This has been done with all past attempts to get public clarification of the situation. However, to those who actually know the problems a whitewash attempt would be futile.

A classic commentary of Antioch High School has been made by a teacher who was dismissed from here for exercising the right of free speech, and who is now an assistant professor at a college. "Being fired from Antioch is tantamount to a recommendation." The time for the problems to be solved is now, and public interest is a step in the right direction.

A double ring wedding ceremony on March 28 in Antioch's Methodist Church united Sue Carol Barnstable of Antioch, and Ronald Redman, formerly of Twin Lakes, Wis., and now of Antioch.

The new Mrs. Redman was given in marriage by her father, as the Rev. Wallace Anderson pronounced the vows in the evening nuptials.

The bride, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Barnstable, 1055 Spafford St., was attired in a floor length gown of white satin net chantilly lace, accented by gay flounces in the front and back. The neck line was embroidered in pearls and iridescent sequins. Flowing from the pearl and rhinestone headpiece was a fingertip hand-rolled veil.

THE BRIDE'S CORSAGE was a cascade bouquet of Easter lillies.

Maid of Honor was Miss Donna Gibbs and the bride was attended by two bridesmaids. They were Miss Nancy Barnstable and Mrs. Carol Luipa. All attendants were attired in dresses of a colonial nature of lavender taffeta with deep purple velvet trim. The backs were in a bustle effect, and they carried flowers of colonial bouquets of white carnations with purple hyacinths.

The Misses Diane Walker and Alice Burnette attended as flower girls.

Mrs. Mabel Lou Dow furnished music for the wedding at the organ. The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Roy Redman of Twin Lakes, Wis., and he was attended by David Cullen as best man and Marvin Walker, Jr., and Rein Ott served as ushers. Ring bearer was Gary Burnette.

Capt. Folger a Piker!Bargains to Be 'Fantastic' in CofC Promotion

When it comes to new type promotions Captain Folger hasn't got a thing on the Antioch Chamber of Commerce.

At a meeting Monday night at the Rurallite, plans for their annual spring promotion were finalized and the wheels set in motion. The local Chamber came up with a new twist to the old spring sale this year that should arouse the interest and the curiosity of every member of the community.

"It's not a real sale," says Bette Meyer, co-chairman of the retail promotion committee, "the participating merchants must be members of the chamber and the bargain item prices MUST be fantastic before it will work."

EARLIER IN THE evening, William Anderson, member of the publicity committee of the Citizens' Advisory Council of the Antioch Township High School, showed slides and gave a presentation of the findings of the group. Anderson reported that the council had recommended a building be started at once.

He reported that it would be less costly in the long run to build a new high school on a new site and turn the present school into a junior high school.

Anderson then told the chamber members that a site of approximately 50 acres was available for this purpose at a cost of around $20,000. The plot is located across from the present Oakland School at the intersection of Loon Lake Rd. and Deep Lake Rd.

As yet no figure has been quoted on the total cost of the program. However, the council has investigated the possibility of adding on to the present building and according to Anderson, this plan would be almost as costly as a new building.

He also stressed the point that according to present grade school figures, by 1962 there will be over 900 students of high school age. Unless a building program is started these students will be attending a school designed for a maximum of 600, he said.

IN A CAP OFF of the evening the chamber heard a brief talk by James Harris, Secretary-Manager of the Credit Bureau of Waukegan-North Chicago.

According to Harris, the bureau, a merchant-owned non-profit organization, handles between seven and eight thousand reports per month.

They are interested in expanding service to include the Antioch area Harris said.

Harris stated that "A credit customer is worth five times as much as a cash customer." He went on to say that a good credit business is capable of increasing sales as much as one-third and with an increased cost of only 2 percent.

"Today is a credit market," said Harris, and according to national

School Elections On Saturday, Interest High In Some Districts

On the eve of school elections across the area on Saturday, a group in Antioch has come out with charges against the administration at Antioch Township High School.

The group is composed of present and former teachers at the high school and of some parents. Edward Cassidy, whose wife is presently a teacher at the school, and Robert Chandler, a former teacher and a candidate for the school board, are spokesmen for the group.

IN A LETTER to The Antioch News, they outlined several reasons why they believe teachers leave the high school. The letter containing their charges is on page 2 of the newspaper.

Chandler told The Antioch News that his race is a protest over conditions at the school. He has been defeated for a school board post once before after his ouster as a teacher on three charges. Chandler complains of the situation of teachers in not having a defense to charges issued by the administration of the school and claims the school board really doesn't know how bad conditions are.

There are four persons running for the three posts to be vacant on the board. Besides Chandler, Dr. Richard Ripley has filed for the job and Mrs. Ruth Seyfarth and Arthur Seekatz are seeking to return to their posts.

CASSIDY, ONE OF the letter authors, claims that the letter contains only a partial list of charges that can be proven against the present high school situation and that he is prepared to back up his claims if anyone is interested in bringing the situation "out in the open".

Polls at most schools will be open from noon to 7 p. m.

In other parts of the area, voters will go to the polls at their respective grade schools to elect board members for each district. Contests are in Grass Lake where six persons are seeking the three offices, at Antioch Grade School with five seeking the three posts up, at Channel Lake with four persons running and at Lake Villa where four persons are after the three vacancies.

At Grass Lake interest is said to be sparked by plans of the PTA to send students to Springfield to see the legislature in action. There is opposition to the plan because of the liability the school assumes.

RUNNING AT GRASS Lake are incumbents Wayne Barker and Frank Benes, Jr., and aspirants Lawrence Schultz, James Ferrier, George Pierce and Michael Wojnowiak. Charles Paddock will not

Lists Noted Persons Who Died in 1958

Between the launching of the first U. S. Satellite and the overthrow of Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista, the year 1958 saw the deaths of many notable persons.

Some of those whose names are listed in The World Book Encyclopedia Yearbook were famous when they died—others were forgotten.

THE DEATHS OF TYRONE POWER, Mike Todd and Ronald Colman made the headlines. Less well known perhaps was Albert Smith, the inventor of the Vitaphone, one of the first successful motion-picture projectors. Most of the public may not have recognized the name of entertainer Maude Nugent when she died. But they probably have heard of "Sweet Rosie O'Grady," one of the songs she composed.

The sports world lost Mel Ott, who hit 511 home runs for the New York Giants, ranking third among baseball greats. Baseball also lost Leon Cadore, the Brooklyn Dodger pitcher who hurled all 26 innings in the longest game in major league history in 1920.

WHILE THE MUSIC world sang the blues for W. C. Handy, Tin Pan Alley noted the passing of Canadian-born Alfred Bryan, who wrote the lyrics for "Peg O' My Heart" and "There's Danger in Your Eyes, Cherie." Another composer who died was British-born William Halling, who wrote the U. S. Military Academy's official march "West Point Forever."

Nationalist China lost a friend in General Claire Chennault, whose "Flying Tigers" made history over China during World War II. Clyde Pangborn, who flew from Tokyo to Washington state in 1931 to make the first non-stop Pacific flight, passed away. And while East and West were launching their missiles, the producer of the first rocket-powered aircraft, Germany's Ernst Heinkel, died.

Glamorous women around the world will long remember French fashion designer Lucien Lelong. While Frederick Wierk is immortalized by the unglamorized quonset huts he designed for World War II servicemen.

In a class by himself was Javier Pereira, a Colombian Indian who claimed to be 167-years-old in 1956 when he visited the U. S. New York doctors, however, were more conservative—they said he was "perhaps" more than 150-years-old.

Here's Answers to 'Who Did That First' in Baseball

Almost any baseball fan can tell you the number of home runs Mickey Mantle belted last year or the salary of Ted Williams. But can he tell you who wore the first baseball glove? Or what player was the first to catch a ball dropped from the Washington Monument?

Statistics will be flying thick and fast now that the baseball season is here. But for those who really want to impress their wives or girlfriends, here are some baseball facts:

THE FIRST CLASH between a player and his arch-enemy—the umpire—occurred June 19, 1846, when the Knickerbocker Club of New York played the New York Baseball Club at Elysian Fields in Hoboken, N. J. A player named Davis was fined six cents for cursing. The umpire was Alexander Cartwright, a leading player for the Knicks, who had chosen to umpire instead.

That game was also the first instance of team baseball as we know it. The New York club won 23 to 1 after four innings.

The Knickerbocker Club, formed in 1845, was the first regular baseball organization. And in their third season, the members donned blue and white uniforms to become the first team uniformly outfitted.

A BREACH OF BASEBALL etiquette made Al Reach the first paid ball player. In 1864, it was considered unethical for a player to "jump" from one team to another.

Reach, however, deserted the Brooklyn Atlantics when he was offered money by the Philadelphia Athletics.

Five years later, the Cincinnati Red Stockings turned professional and became the first salaried team.

IN THOSE DAYS, baseball was far from the gentlemanly game the Knickerbockers had played. A player might leave the field bleeding or unconscious after stopping a fast ball, but he refused to baby himself by wearing protective equipment.

In 1875, however, Charles Waite, first baseman for Boston, put on a glove—flesh-colored, so the fans wouldn't notice it. A. G. Spalding finally wore a dark brown glove, adding stuffing to it a little at a time.

THE FIRST CATCHER'S mask was developed in 1878 for a Harvard player who preferred being called a sissy to having his fine Barrymore profile smashed.

Still wondering about the Washington Monument? Well, Billy

"Pop" Schriver of a Chicago ball club caught a ball dropped from the 500-foot level of the memorial in 1892.

Just a grandstander, but—that's baseball.

Hawaii A Melting Pot, Few 'Real' Hawaiians' There

The world's sweet tooth helped make Hawaii one of the greatest "melting pots" in the world.

When the first white man explored the islands in the late 1700's, Hawaiians numbered about 300,000. But civil wars and diseases brought from other lands slashed the native population.

WITH THE GROWTH of the sugar industry in the 1800's, the Islanders looked to other nations to supply the labor needed for plantations. Chinese were brought to the islands in 1852, followed by Polynesians from other South Sea Islands, Japanese, Portuguese, Germans, Italians, Spaniards, Puerto Ricans, Koreans, Filipinos, Russians and Poles.

Today there are only about 12,000 full Hawaiians and some 80,000 part-Hawaiians among the 600,000 Islanders.

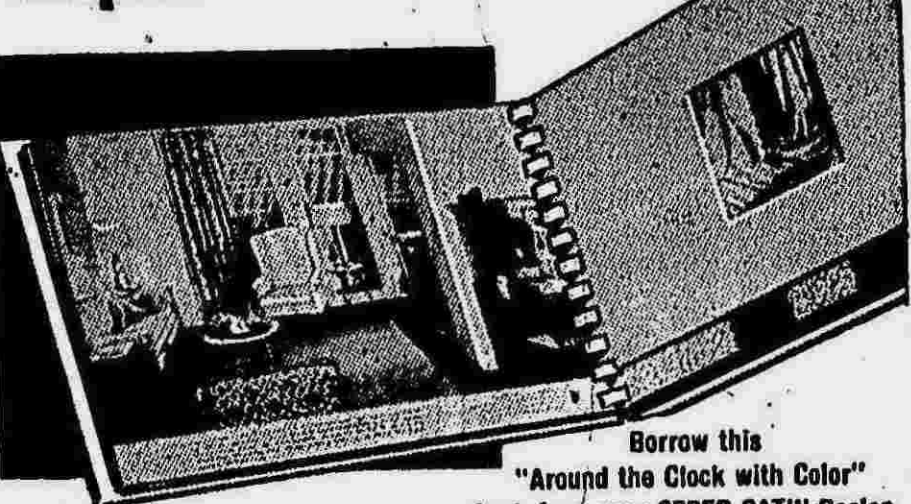

Here is the breakdown of the Hawaiian population, according to The World Book Encyclopedia:

Japanese	40%
Part Hawaiian	17%
Caucasian	15%
Filipino	13%
Chinese	7%
Full Hawaiian	3%
Puerto Rican	2%
Korean	1%
Others	2%

Say, "How cool you look," and it pleases a woman. Tell her she doesn't look so hot and it makes her mad. Women are so unreasonable.

WATCHING A SPECIAL assembly line in the Johnson's Wax Co. plant in Racine Monday were these members of the Antioch Woman's Club who toured that city. They are, from left: Mesdames Jerry Vagler, Fred Franklin, Richard Whitaker, Helen Connell, E. Sheehan and J. J. Patrovsky. This is the emulsion filling department of the famed wax plant.

Woman's Club Views Famous Wax Facility

Members of the Antioch Woman's Club Monday toured the world famous Johnson's Wax Co. research and administration center designed by Frank Lloyd Wright.

The women watched production of several of the company's products including Klear, a new home floor polish that has a clear protective film that the maker promises will not turn yellow. The product has just been introduced by the company.

A TOUR WAS made also of the administration building which has been called by architects as the "greatest contribution to business housing since the skyscraper" and the research tower, one of the architectural wonders of the world.

The tower as no first floor, no supports directly under the side walls. A central core anchored 54 feet in the ground carries the 15-story building. Twenty-one miles of glass tubing circle the building between bands of brick.

Following the tour, the group and guests met for lunch in the Racine Hotel and spent the afternoon touring the Museum of Fine Arts.

Hawaii and Alaska have more historical ties than the achievement of statehood in 1959. During the 1800's whaling ships stopped off in the islands for supplies and repairs on their way to the Alaskan whaling grounds.

Official Suggests...

Trustee Herman Holbeck noted that not only broken pavement is a problem on the street but that uneven grades and improper drainage cause much complaint from residents. "The state has done nothing to the street in 25 years," he told The Antioch News. "People can't understand that it is not the village's fault when flooding in spots occur—we can't touch it because it is a state highway," he said.

IN OTHER ACTION, the board agreed to continue to be lenient in collection of liquor license money. The ordinance calls for immediate payment of the $500 fee but the village has been allowing tavern owners to pay the fee in installments.

The village will readvertise for insurance liability at the end of the fiscal year April 30, mostly as a result of the present company's refusal to pay a $28 damage claim. The incident arose last February when tar dripped from a light standard on an automobile parked on a village street. The car's finish was damaged and the claim was refused by the company. The annual premium at present is $1200.

Discussion about keeping the town clean resulted in a recommendation to businessmen to sweep their sidewalks at night instead of the morning because the village cleans the streets in the morning several times a week. Then the litter could be carried away instead of being tracked back on the walks.

The board also asked the merchants to clean the alleys behind their stores to alleviate what was termed "back of business dumps."

THE BOARD OF directors of the Chamber of Commerce was given permission to use the village hall for its monthly meeting after Pres. Ralph Gresens told the board of the plight of the businessmen's group.

A motion was passed to permit the village to buy a 60 foot section of land on North Ave. for $3,000 which will complete land acquisition for the roadway under which will run sewer and water lines to Oakwood Knolls section.

A special meeting of the board will be held Tuesday, April 21 to canvass votes in the village election and on April 28 another special meeting will be held to close the books on the fiscal year. All bills should be submitted to be paid on the 1958-59 fiscal year budget.

The Antioch News and Antioch Theatre invite Mrs. Harold Murawski, Rt. 4, Deerpath Dr., Lindenhurst, Lake Villa, and one to attend Sunday, Monday or Tuesday's show at the Antioch Theatre, April 12, 13, or 14.

run, it would be better educationally and financially to construct a new building.

The school board agreed after reviewing figures and consulting architects and independent engineers.

AFTER THE DECISION to construct a new building was made, the school board took more than three months to study costs and to arrive at a figure. It was only Monday that final costs were agreed upon. However, a campaign by the Citizens' Advisory Council, headed by Elmer Eberman of Channel Lake, began April 13 to inform the public of the need for a new building.

The study made of the overcrowding problem at the high school by the board and the Citizens' Council has received a favorable comment by the Illinois School Consulting Service, a firm which works with school boards all over the state in planning for the best use of the educational dollar. Gene Blanchard, a representative for the firm, said that this is the most complete study his company has seen in the entire state.

"Its recommendations are sound," he said.

Walls of the magnificent palace of Ramses III in Ancient Egypt were covered with beautiful multi-colored enamel. The arduous process of applying enamel involved heating and then watering the walls. Thousands of slaves toiled months to cover just one wall.

Rulers of the Ching T'ai regime spent fortunes to cover interiors of Buddhist temples in Constantinople with colored enamel. Because the paint was so beautiful, the temples were left untouched during the bloody Turkish conquest of 1453.

Today's jet-age enamels far surpass those of the ancients. Where drying once took days and often weeks, Jet-Dri, the paint industry's newest research development, is completely dry in 15 minutes, may be used on floors, woodwork, boats, toys, cabinets, all equipment—indoors and out. New paint is non-toxic, is produced in many colors.

Will News Reader Be Queen of Apple Festival?

Some vivacious female reader of The Antioch News may be crowned Chicagoland Apple Blossom Queen in a coronation scheduled for Sunday, May 3.

The fifth annual Chicagoland Apple Blossom Festival will center at Mossley Hill Orchards at Lake Zurich on or about that date. The date is dependent on blooming of the blossoms, says John Bell, owner of the mile-long orchards. Chilly weather can delay the process by as much as two weeks and the festival will be held when the blossoms reach their peak. The Antioch News will carry full information.

THE BLOSSOM QUEEN will be chosen from entrants throughout the area. All girls, 18 years and older, unmarried, are eligible to enter the competition which will bring the winner a host of prizes culminating in an all-expense trip for two to New York City.

The winner will be chosen on the basis of beauty, charm and poise. She will receive an array of prizes including jewelry and wardrobe, besides the vacation trip.

GIRLS WHO WISH to enter should send a photo with name, address and measurements to: Blossom Queen Editor, Antioch News, P. O. Box 538, Antioch, Ill. All entries will be acknowledged and contestants will be advised of judging and other details by mail or telephone.

Another feature of the spring event will be the distribution of 300 Blossom Festival Gift Packs containing a colorful assortment of apples, apple butter, cider and apple honey. The gift packs will be awarded daily during the festival and anyone may become eligible for one of the gifts simply by placing a registration card in the drawing box at the Orchards any day up to the festival period.

State Income Tax Coming?

By Rep. Paul Simon

When you go to the polls in November of 1960, there is a good possibility that you will vote on a proposal for a revenue amendment to our state constitution which will permit some type of state income tax.

It probably will be coupled with some type of assurance of reduction in the property tax or elimination of sales tax on food.

EXACTLY WHAT—if anything will be proposed is not too clear yet, but there is an increasing awareness than sooner or later Illinois will join the states (32) which already have a state income tax.

The various groups differ as to the type of state income tax we should have, but most of them agree that sooner or later it's coming.

Even conservative organizations like the Illinois Manufacturers Association and the Illinois Chamber of Commerce have repeatedly indicated they will support a constitutional amendment permitting a state income tax. School groups, labor organizations, and farm groups also are supporting a constitutional amendment which would permit a state income tax.

"WHAT'S WRONG with our present tax structure?" you may ask.

The answer is that the present two sources of tax income—property tax and sales tax—are not a completely fair means of taxation.

Let me take the property tax as an example.

There is general agreement that by and large the property tax has gone about as high as it safely can go. Our present tax structure is based on the state constitution of 1848 when property was easily seen and taxation on property was a sensible means of taxation. Things are much different in 1959 than they were in 1848.

LET ME GIVE you a few examples of the hardships a property tax works:

1. A young couple which pays $500 down on a $25,000 home has to pay taxes as if they completely owned that home.

2. A retired couple which has saved enough during their lives to own a small home but have very little income must pay as much property tax as those who earn an income.

3. A farmer must pay the same tax whether he has a total crop failure or a record harvest. The same holds true of a businessman.

4. The man who holds $100,000 in stocks and bonds is probably paying considerably less in personal property taxes than is the farmer who owns $10,000 worth of equipment. Stocks and bonds are almost impossible to assess. But it's pretty hard for a farmer to hide a pig or a cow or a tractor.

5. Because of inequalities in assessments, inevitably there will be great inequalities in payment of taxes.

THE PROPERTY TAX originally was based on the idea that there is a close relationship between property and income. In 1848 this was probably a valid assumption. In 1959 it is not.

The sales tax in Illinois contains probably even greater inequities than the property tax. For the most part, the essentials of living are taxed while many of the luxuries are not.

Most people who have studied our Illinois tax structure feel we need a drastic overhauling. Part of this overhauling process sooner or later will mean a state income tax.

If it comes—and it won't for a few years—it will probably be a small percentage of your federal tax bill or about one per cent of your present gross income. It probably will be withheld on a regular basis just as your federal income tax is now.

And one other prediction is safe:

There will be a great deal of public discussion and debate before it happens—if it happens.

Tree Buyers Told To Watch For Dried Out Roots

Purchasers of trees, shrubs and other landscaping material were cautioned to watch out for nursery stock with dried-out roots unprotected by shavings or moss.

Stillman J. Stanard, director of agriculture, pointed out that such stock may have become devitalized or weakened by excessive heat or cold.

HIS REMARKS were made to the public and to the more than 3,000 handlers of nursery stock in the state because of new regulations governing the storage and display of plants.

"This is the first Spring season that new regulations governing plant care and storage have been in effect," Stanard said, "and we are taking the opportunity to advise both the buyer and the seller."

"Plants sold at retail should bear a tag or certificate of inspection from the Illinois department of agriculture that the plants have passed examination."

The reminder was directed at persons and firms maintaining sales yards, stores, garden centers or other places where nursery stock is sold to provide protection for plants. Many dealers display plants in parking lots and on sidewalks without regard for root cover or maintenance of moisture, he said.

The Boy Scouts' National Court of Honor made 199 awards for heroism or meritorious service in 1957.

CAREFULLY CHECKING EACH prospective purchase in their food shopping are Mrs. Peter Kizel and Mrs. Richard Walls of Antioch. They, along with several other local housewives, are enrolled in University of Illinois extension courses to learn how to get more out of their food dollar.

Merchants Know Much About You As A Shopper; Women To Learn How To Use Better 'Buymanship'

Merchants know more about you as a shopper than you know yourself and so buymanship is as important as salesmanship.

That's why women in the Antioch area next month will be paying special attention to courses given by the extension service of the Home Economics Dept. of the Illinois College of Agriculture. They'll learn how to save money on the most costly thing in the family's budget—food.

THE COURSES WILL be given during the months of March and April throughout the county and will tip women on at least 10 methods of getting more from the food dollar. Included will be hints on meal planning and proper shopping. Some of the points of stress will include:

1. Use meal plans and a shopping list to buy only the best for your family and only the things that are needed.
2. Keep posted on market news for good buys. Make purchases when quality is high and price is low.

3. Think in terms of cost per pound or pint instead of cost per item, per can, bottle or package.
4. Learn to prepare a wide variety of foods well and remember that a meal that is poorly prepared and served and not eaten can only mean a waste of money.

5. Selection of a grocery store and food items to fit the purse and needs. Special services—such as charge accounts, special premiums, extra processing and fancy packaging—will cost more.

ARMED WITH THESE hints and cautions, the women will hear further points on economical buying of foods the family needs. An item by item breakdown will show some women some surprising things which, with just a little thought, will save them money.

Items like milk, for example, come in many kinds and prices vary. Fresh milk is tasty and usually the most desirable form for drinking—however, it costs more than any other form of milk.

Fermented milk, such as buttermilk, sells for a few cents less than fresh milk. And for cooking, canned milk when mixed with an equal amount of water, tastes just as good and may cost from 10 to 15 percent less than fresh milk.

BUT IF YOU really want to save on milk, you can use dried milk forms for cooking and baking. It will save you about 25 percent on milk costs.

However, the homemakers will be cautioned, it is not wise to cut costs of milk if you cut down the amount of milk the family needs.

THE INSTRUCTION will move on to fruits and vegetables and compare fresh, frozen, canned and dried fruits and vegetables.

The women will be urged to serve the necessary amounts of these foods which are:

A serving of a dark-green or deep-yellow vegetable; a serving of a citrus fruit; tomato or other fruit or vegetable with high vitamin C content and two servings of other fruits and vegetables.

Some of the hints in buying are: Buy the quality to fit the use. For example, fancy packed canned tomatoes are an extravagance when used for making chili, or whole sliced pineapple when it is to be diced in a salad.

Know that high quality fruits and vegetables are heavy in proportion to their size—therefore, the largest is not necessarily the best. Lower quality fruits and vegetables showing signs of spoilage have a greater percentage of waste and therefore even at lower prices may not be a good buy.

Learn the difference between blemishes that affect appearance and those that affect eating quality. Buy fresh produce when in season and abundant supply. Best buys in canned and frozen fruits and vegetables come when there is a surplus at the end of the year just before the new pack comes in.

MEATS, FISH AND EGGS most certainly fool people when it comes to buying. A section of the course devoted to these items includes hints on buying and preparing to get the most for the dollar.

In buying meat, the shopper must look further than just cost per pound, but per edible portion. You should give boneless meats about 1/4 pound per serving; some bone meats 1/2 pound per serving and bony meat should run 3/4 to 1 pound per serving.

As with most other items, supply and demand controls price in meats. A buyer should know that beef is the best buy in April and May and October and November; pork in November, December and early spring; lamb in August and September and poultry in April, May and June. Eggs are most plentiful from March to June.

A caution to buy heavier weight birds because they provide more meat in proportion to bone structure than the lighter ones, and fish as an excellent source of protein and has little waste. Gals may be urged to get them some fishing gear because they will be taught that fish from local waters are least expensive.

IN GENERAL, shoppers will be advised that there are several rules which will help in buying all items. They include:

Keep food records so that you will know how much you are spending and where you can make the best use of your food money. The way super-markets are set up, not all items you buy are food; for example, cigarettes, washing and cleaning supplies and facial tissues.

Buying foods in larger amounts if you have adequate storage facilities is an excellent way to save money.

Produce and preserve some of your own food. Home-grown food is not free food, because it costs you in time to prepare and to produce. And you can not prepare some as safely and cheaply as food producers, such as milk pasteurization, freezing and storage of meat.

Buy foods with nutritional value in proportion to their costs. Up-to-date preparation can get even more out of the food dollar.

NEW! You should have your good double breasted suit restyled into a single — $18 will do it.

Not Toiled For Village? You May Be Lawbreaker

Residents of Antioch may be breaking the law if they haven't performed their two days labor for the village in the past year.

That's the law, still, and so the village has a handy ordinance to get it over the rough spots should money ever get tight here. Penalty for not doing your duty is a fine of from $3 to $50.

THE ORDINANCE calls for every able-bodied male above 21 years and under 50 years (except those exempt by law) to labor on the streets and alleys for two days each year when called to do so by the street commissioner.

Pay for the work will be 75 cents per day or $1.50 for the two days. The old law is just one of several on the village books which has not been rescinded after having become out of date.

About 150,000 Americans are saved from cancer each year. But 75,000 additional are lost needlessly because discovery and treatment of their cancers were too late.

Salem-Wilmot Baseball Curtain Raiser Monday, Falcons Strong

With a letterman at every position except left field, the Falcons of Salem's Central High School should be a strong threat to repeat as one of the top prep baseball teams of the area.

How strong they are will be seen next Monday at Fox River Park in the traditional opener with cross-township rival Wilmot. The game begins at 3:30 p. m.

THIS WILL BE the first year in the Southeastern Conference for Coach Bill Becker's Falcons and they should be strong after having nailed down the larger Braveland Conference championship last year—the second time in three seasons.

Last year Central trimmed the Southeastern loop champ, Pewaukee, 5-1 in sectional play. Expected to give good service to the Falcons will be lettermen Gary Doerflinger, right handed slinger, a senior; Fred Lentz, junior catcher; Dee Davis and Dave Ellis, seniors, at first and second base and Dave Erickson, junior, at third. The other two lettermen are basketball's most valuable player Ron Yates at short and Gene Schulz in center field. Both are juniors.

IF THEY DON'T come through as hoped, Becker can fall back on a host of sophomores and freshmen, part of the 37 others who trooped out at the first call for baseball on March 15.

Sorely missed this year will be pitchers Dick Skora and Ron Nelson who graduated. Both are on college baseball squads at Madison and Whitewater.

Other lettermen who must be replaced are Dick Weber, catcher, Ray Ellis, center field; Ray Lubkeman, first base and Dave Westman, right field. The six lettermen lost through graduation earned a total of 19 letters at Central on the baseball team.

EXPECTED TO BE strong in the conference this year will be Pewaukee, Union Grove, Walworth and Arrowhead. Salem meets Union Grove and Arrowhead at home and the other two are not scheduled so it would appear that the Falcons may do well in the conference.

Antioch appears on Central's schedule this year for the first time in varsity competition between the schools.

The schedule:
April 13—Wilmot at Fox River Park, 3:30 p. m.

April 16—at Badger

April 23—at Waterford

April 24—Antioch at Salem, 4 p. m.

April 28—Kenosha at Salem, 3:45 p. m.

April 30—Rochester at Salem, 8 p. m.

May 7—Palmyra at Salem, 7:30 p. m.

May 11—at Clinton

May 14—Union Grove at Salem, 8 p. m.

May 26—Open.

The assistant coach this year is John Fisher, former head of the McHenry (Ill.) high school team. He will handle the frosh-soph squad also.

Salem Athletes Honored at Dinner Saturday

Annual athletic banquet at Salem Central High School will be held Saturday night at 7:30. Speaker will be Armin Kraeft, head football coach of the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

Athletes from the football, basketball, baseball, track and golf squads will be honored at the dinner presented by the Central Community Club.

Salem Golfers Open Season Wednesday

Only one letterman will return to Coach Dorm Grams' Salem Central High School golf squad but all 12 members of the team are confident going into a 13 match schedule. The Falcons are the only prep golf crew in this area.

The letterman is Leroy Leach, who won his letter as a freshman. He is team captain.

THE GOLFING FALCONS make the Spring Valley Country Club their home field but will not open on the home greens until April 22. Before that match with Big Foot, the team will have its mettle tested with Union Grove and Waterford. All matches start at 4 p. m.

Most of the members of Grams' team are freshmen with only Leach, a sophomore, and Ken Parker and Leroy Remer, juniors on the squad. The freshmen aspirants are: Bob Nelson, Bruce Bojeson, Don DeBell, Bill Couch, George Vlahakis, George Rodis, Don Durkin, Bruce Dix and Vince Klemko.

The schedule:
April 15—at Union Grove

April 17—at Waterford

April 22—Big Foot at Salem, 4 p. m.

April 24—Arrowhead at Salem, 4 p. m.

April 29—at Clinton

Antioch collected only one hit from the superb hurling of the Rams' King who came on in the second inning. His speed had Indians fanning during the 5½ inning tilt halted by darkness. He KOed seven and walked but one.

DEFENSIVE MISCUSES by Antioch contributed to the Sequoit's downfall. Shortstop Chuck Schuth bobbled three but none of the team could settle down.

The loss was second this year, the first being an 11-6 defeat on the week-end to a hot North Chicago nine in a practice game. That contest was the first time Antioch really had been outside on the season.

Pairings Next Week In News' Keg Tournament

Pairings will be made next week for the start of the big Antioch News keg tournament at the Antioch Bowl, says Jack Sampayo, co-owner and director of the show.

An entry list of more than 128 has been received and several are standing ready to be alternates. First pairings will make 64 matches with losers dropping out. After that, every loser makes at least his entry fee.

AFTER EACH ROUND when exactly half the bowlers drop out, new pairings will be made with one person getting a handicap of 75 percent of his composite average. His opponent will get no handicap.

Fish Kill Small On Kenosha Lakes

Report from western Kenosha County show that the winter fish kill in the lakes has been somewhat below the bad winter of 1951 but some loss has been noted.

Camp and Rock Lakes received emergency treatment during the hard part of the winter but some killing did occur.

However with the ice all gone, fishing has resumed on lakes and some fine catches are being reported. Fish Manager Fritz Paulin has nets down in Camp and Lily Lakes and nets are being placed in Silver and Twin Lakes for additional counts of kill and the spawning runs of northerns and walleyes.

As losers drop out, the prize becomes larger and the winner will receive $100 in prizes and a trophy. Semi-finalists will get $20 each.

After first pairings are released, the bowlers will have two weeks to get in their matches. From then on, keggers will have only a week to roll off in each pairing bracket.

Expect Top Gal Bowler Here Sunday

Sunday at the Antioch Bowl fans will get a chance to see Mrs. Paul Crumske, wife of the noted Chicago bowler. She will be here with a few other women keggers to try their luck in the annual Women's Singles tourney which ends next weekend.

Entries in the tourney have lagged below last year's total of 302, but Jack Sampayo, co-owner of the lanes, predicts the field will be near last year when the last ball is rolled. There have been just a few over 100 entries at midweek, Sampayo said.

THE GALS ARE going after a $200 first prize based on an entry list of 300. Second prize in the tourney is $100 and third place, $75. Entry fee is $5.

Gals will be rolling for the next two weekends and on Wednesday April 15. Special prizes are offered for the midweek bowlers.

Golf Season Opens With New Name, New Owners At Popular Course

By Jerry Nordmark

How would you like to have a successful business career behind you, incorporate with a friend and start operating a golf course?

To a golf fan this would be nearly ideal. And to Jim Phillips and John "Pick" Wagner, new operators of the Spring Valley Country Club, it is.

The men are the new owners of the former Salem Country Club, two miles north of Antioch. Their objective: "To build a semi-private fee course that is as good as any in the country." The facilities are available for such a course, "Pick" says. "We plan to put in a putting clock and nursery this year and we have a tree planting and trimming program planned. We'll improve topography of the greens," John says.

BOTH MEN HAVE a long-time interest in golf and hope to make this course meet their standards of an ideal link.

"Pick" started playing at the age of nine. During his early golfing years, he played with Julius Boros, Ed Furgol, Dick Mayer and other top-flight professionals of today. And he used to beat them quite consistently. In fact he was said to be a better golfer than his future professional competitors.

He began playing in tournaments and in 1933 stroked the ball in his first National Amateur. Since that time he has played in 15 National Amateur events and once was the National Amateur medalist.

"Pick" played in eight National Opens too, and tied for low once. In 1949 in the National Open at Medina, he was the third low amateur.

HE WON THE Illinois open one year and was low amateur in that tourney five times. He won the Great Lakes Amateur once and in 1950 this fabulous golfer was runnerup in the World Amateur Championship Tournament at Tam O' Shanter.

Northwestern University had "Pick" playing their number one spot in 1937 after two years of competition and he has been touted as the finest golfer to come out of N. U.

When asked why he did not turn pro, "PJick" says: "If you're a pro and on the circuit, your home life is shot. I prefer cultivating a rich home life because in the long run I feel I will gain more." He formerly was general manager with an oil company, is married and has six children.

One more thing about "Pick"—he has played with Frank Stranahan nine times and has won eight matches. Yet Jim Phillips says he is a "hard luck golfer." One wonders what he means.

PHILLIPS ALWAYS has had a yen for sports—any kind. In a

Still Touch Of Old At New Golf Links—Old Membership

More than just the owners and the name are new at the Spring Valley Country Club south of Salem.

Owners Jim Phillips and John "Pick" Wagner will introduce a courtesy card system into the area. With every 10 rounds of golf played at the course, the duffer can get an extra round free.

Besides the other changes planned as the club goes into full operation only one old institution will remain. That's the popular memberships issued by the old Salem Country Club. "They'll all be honored," the new owners say.

rather quiet, reserved but friendly manner, he tells of having his own lathing and plastering business for 35 years, of his wife and four children and of his interest in the new Spring Valley course.

"We think the possibilities of this area are great," he says.

Jim doesn't have the fascinating golfing record that belongs to his partner but perhaps he just doesn't want to talk about it. It would not be surprising if his game is commendable. At any rate, he offers no indication of his links ability.

Both Jim and "Pick" are members of the Wilmette Optimist Club, which has sponsored boys at the Allendale School for Boys in Lake Villa for many years.

There is a third man in the picture at Spring Valley. He is "Doc" McCoy, a former restaurant and bar owner at Grayslake. He manages the Spring Valley bar and restaurant now and also has numerous plans for the place.

"SPRING VALLEY'S accommodations will be superb, we think. First of all, we'll serve fine food. Our bar will be secondary. We plan to move the restaurant over to the clubhouse eventually so everything is in one place. And we're going to stay open 11 months," he adds.

"Doc" says the bar will officially open this week-end and it is hoped the restaurant will be opened.

So with two men who are avid enthusiasts of golf and one man who has had excellent results during his many years of restaurant operation, Spring Valley could easily become the leading semi-private fee course in this part of the country.

Naturally, all clubbers hope it will because then present scores might improve. And perhaps "Pick" will give some tips when we chat with him on the course and in the restaurant.

MEMBERS OF THE Channel Lake Grade School cage squad pose for their final picture of the season in uniform as they ended second in league play and took second in the post-season tournament.

Channel Lake Cagers Mark 8-2 Season Record, Second In League

Chuck Miller and Don Richter of the Channel Lake grade school basketball team led their team to second place in the Lakes Conference grade school league and to the second place tournament trophy.

Miller, in figures released this week by Principal Don Behling, banged the hoop for 108 points in 10 games and teammate Richter ended the season with 69 points.

THE EIGHTH GRADERS combined for a total of 295 points in an 8-2 season record. Their two losses came at the hands of league champs, the Big Hollow squad.

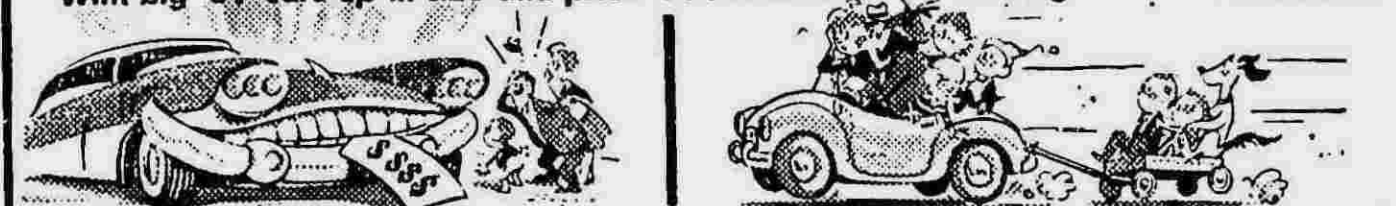

In the league tournament held at Gavin School, the Channel Lakers turned back 31-24 but lost for the third time of the year to Big Hollow 23-19.

Following are the season records of the "A" squad:

Player	FG	FT	TP
Chuck Miller	48	12	108
Don Richter	32	5	69
Bob Kubicki	24	6	54
Paul Hammeau	16	6	38
Al Gruidl	6	5	17
Ed Buehl	3	0	6
Mike Roepenack	1	6	2

The Channel Lake "B" squad went winless during the year but seventh grader Dick Davis starred for the team, garnering 33 points, 11 of them in a 33-11 loss to Antioch grade school. Nudging him were Ed Matejka with 25 points, Ronny Holstrom with 10, Bill Sershon with 7 and Roger Eberman with five.

Seine Petite, Get Only 2 Junk Fish

Fishermen will be pleased to know there are good game fish in Petite Lake and carp and other scavenger fish are relatively absent.

Crews seined about three-fourths of the lake last Friday but pulled in only about three small carp and a couple of garfish. Several bluegills and medium sized stripers were pulled in also and tossed back into the pond.

George DeBray, the Fox Lake bait shop owner who has the contract to seine the Chain O' Lakes, says that his crews took 50,000 pounds of carp last fall.

The Friday fishing was only a trial to see if there were any carp left. Ed Clemens, Petite Lake resort owner, noted that because of the high waters, there still could be a number of the scavenger fish in the channels.

Waters now are at the highest point in the river and lakes in almost 10 years.

'Surprise' Promised In Sunday's Fox Lake Hills Welcoming Tea

Mrs. Bernice Savage, chairman of the Welcoming Tea Committee of Fox Lake Hills, reports that the tea will be on Sunday, April 12, 2 to 4 p. m. at the Holy Family Parish Recreation Room. The committee had exciting plans for the tea but she did not wish to spoil the surprise so she could not divulge the details.

The Women's Auxiliary of Fox Lake Hills met at the home of Robert F. Wagner on Hillside Dr. Wednesday evening, April 1. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Mary Berg, Mrs. Betty Rebor and Mrs. Marilyn Ring. They used the new 80 cup coffee maker obtained by the auxiliary through the sale of vanilla.

Members present viewed sound movies on First Aid. The Auxiliary voted to accept the offer of the Rev. Vincent Fish of the Holy Family Episcopal Church on Lehmann Blvd., of the use of parish recreation room for their future meetings.

THE NEXT REGULAR meeting will be on Wednesday, May 6 at 7:30 p. m. Hostesses will be Mrs. Judith Kelly, Mrs. Marie Emma and Mrs. Martha Wagner.

New officers will be elected at this meeting and a nominating committee was chosen as follows: Mrs. Beverly Hinton, Mrs. Bernice Savage, unit 1; Mrs. Mary Ellen Herling, Mrs. Wilma Dyson, unit 2; Mrs. Teddy Randazzo, Mrs. Shirley Waugh, unit 3.

Mrs. Charmaine McLane reported that the Bunny's visit to the subdivision was enjoyed by the children and adults who participated in the event. The Easter Bunny (Mrs. Corinne Coleman) also visited the patients at the Hampstead House on Rte. 59 and they were as thrilled as the children with her visit.

Mrs. Virginia Conrad, chairman of the Rummage Sale Committee reported that the sale will be held at Fox Lake on May 15 and 16. A definite place will be announced.

7 Days To Income Tax Deadline

It's later than you think—only seven days left to file your Federal income tax return for 1958.

That's the friendly reminder coming out of Washington, D. C., from U. S. Internal Revenue Commissioner Dana Latham, according to H. Alan Long, District Director at Chicago, who said:

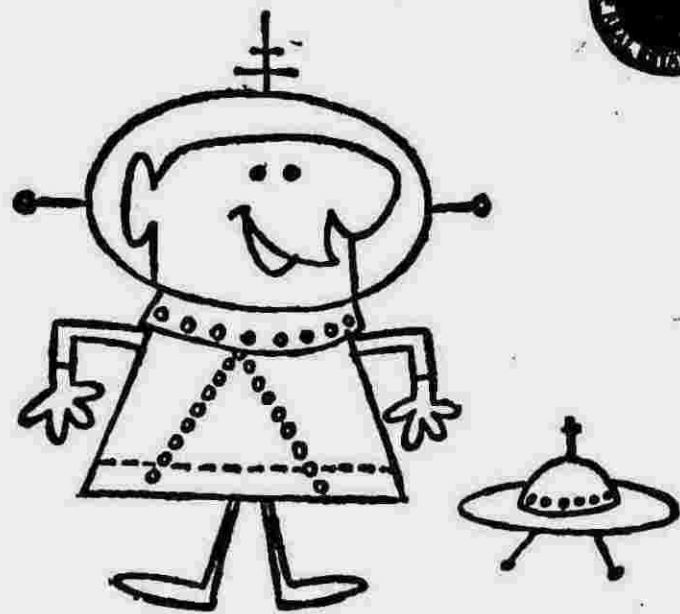

"Commissioner Latham has requested me to inform all Chicago District taxpayers who have not filed yet of the services we can provide to help them get their returns in before the April 15 deadline."

THE MOST CONVENIENT service, Long said, is the telephone-assistance service especially designed for the taxpayers who find it difficult to visit the district office.

"Taxpayers who have started their returns and are puzzled by a problem or two, should call our local offices between the hours of 8:30 a. m. and 5 p. m., Monday through Friday, and we will be glad to help them."

"Then, if they still need help, they should visit our offices where agents are on duty to provide information and advice on the preparation and filing of 1958 income tax returns."

Lake Co. Fair Scheduled For July 29, Aug. 2

Visitors to the 1959 Lake County Fair will have an extra day to visit the many exhibits and enjoy the enlarged entertainment programs.

This year's fair will be held five days and nights, starting Wednesday, July 29 and continuing through Sunday, Aug. 2.

THIS WILL MARK the third year that the fair has been held on the association's own grounds. As a result of owning their fair site the directors of the Lake County Fair Association have been able to provide numerous facilities which benefit both exhibitors and fair visitors. These have enabled the directors to make the Lake County Fair one of the biggest and best in Illinois.

Additional buildings are being planned to house some of the exhibits that previously were held in tents. At the present time buildings are provided for the 4-H club miscellaneous exhibits and fine arts exhibits, beef cattle, dairy cattle, and a large share of the commercial exhibits.

Ample parking space on the fair grounds has been a great asset to the Lake County Fair.

This year, as in previous years, the opening day will be designated as 4-H Club Day. The feature 4-H attractions will be the all 4-H club horse show in the afternoon and the Share-the-Fun Festival in the evening. Many of the 4-H club exhibits will be judged on the opening day.

'Wake Up, Read' Theme Of Area Library Week

The Lake Villa Township Library is trying to promote the celebration of National Library Week, April 12-18.

By posters and letters to organizations, the Library hopes to remind area residents that reading can help them to explore their need for a greater sense of purpose and meaning in their lives.

WAKE UP AND READ is the excellent slogan of National Library Week this year.

Clarence Day in "The Story of the Yale University Press Told by a Friend," says, "The world of books is the most remarkable creation of man. Nothing else that he builds lasts. Monuments fall; nations perish; civilizations grow old and die out; and, after an era of darkness, new mind area residents that reading can help them to explore their need for a greater sense of purpose and meaning in their lives. But in the world of books are volumes that have seen this happen again and again, and yet live on, still young, still as fresh as the day they were written, still telling men's hearts of the hearts of men centuries dead."

The biggest room in the world is room for improvement — LeRoy Journal.

The Boy Scouts of America observes its 50th anniversary in 1960.

We live better
because of this man

It was on August 27, 1859 that Edwin Drake drilled and brought in the first commercial oil well near Titusville, Pennsylvania.

In this Atomic Age hardly a day goes by in which oil does not play a part in your life.

You can cross the United States from east to west coast in just a little over three hours. Oil powers the jet. Satellites are launched into space by power developed from oil. Perhaps your home is warm because of oil. Your car runs because of oil.

Well over 50-million barrels of oil were sold last year. More than $4-billion was invested by the oil industry in materials, plant and equipment. And about 330,000 workers in oil and gas production earned around $1.8 billion. Thousands upon thousands of other people earn their living by distributing oil products. That's our job.

And we believe it is responsible, enterprise and service to our community and our customers that is the very foundation of the oil business.

A successful season has been completed by the Lake Villa Grade School basketball team competing in the Lake County Big Six Conference. The team compiled a 16-5 record.

THE LAKE VILLANS have been paced this year by the great floor play and shooting of Jim Brownlee and the tremendous rebounding and shooting of Craig Alderton.

The squad placed second in the conference, beaten out only by Mundelein. A trophy was received in the 16-team Christmas Invitational Tournament at Wauconda, where Lake Villa placed second losing to Barrington by two points.

Sports Club at F. L. Hills Has 47 Members

The new Fox Lake Hills Sports Club held its fourth meeting Thursday at the home of Thomas Dyson, president of the group. The club now has 47 active members and is open to boys of high school age and up.

The by-laws committee submitted a set of by-laws to the officers for inspection. They will be printed and then handed out to the members for a vote at their next regular meeting, to be held on May 7.

H. HENNINGSEN donated his truck and his services as a driver for the purpose of making a trip to Wisconsin to obtain a load of straw needed for the archery group. The straw has been donated to the club by Charles Willes. Henningsen will be accompanied by R. Emma, M. Riley, and R. Whene.

F. Wheymer, a member of the Fox Valley Archery Club, in Cary, has invited the Fox Lake group to attend one of their meetings and offered them the use of their archery range. Emma and Mike Whene will represent the local club at the meeting to be held the third Wednesday of the month.

After closing the business meeting an evening of ping pong was held. W. Shogren, P. Gosell and young Denk were the champs.

The club is making plans for spring and summer activities. The group plans to enter a team in the Antioch indoor baseball league this summer. They held their first practice last Sunday. In spite of a brisk wind blowing, 20 men showed up.

Many other projects are being talked about including a boat trip through the Chain O' Lakes sometime in June and outdoor movies throughout the summer. The club is also considering the purchase of a 3 1/2 h.p. outboard motor for use by the members.

Family Relations Conference Sunday at St. Peter's Church

Children are as good—or as bad—as the parents who raise them, is the theme of the Cana Conference to be held Sunday, April 12, from 1 to 6 p. m. at St. Peter's Catholic School.

The Cana Conference is the church's answer to the startling increase in divorces and broken homes. It is an attempt to emphasize the real happiness that can be found in marriage—with God's help and the proper information.

LEADING THIS Conference will be one of 35 specially-trained priests who assist in the Chicago Archdiocese's program of marriage education. So far, over 30,000 couples have attended these Conferences.

The Cana Conference Committee at St. Peter's consists of the following couples: Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. George Palaske, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gas, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sterbenz, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. LaPlante, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gibbons, and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Osmond.

2,720 Persons Read 40,542 Books From Library Here in Past Year

If you have not visited your public library recently, a suggestion is made to set aside a day next week, during the second national-wide observance of National Library Week, to visit Antioch Township Library and see the progress made in the past year.

Although the children registered at the library number only 48 per cent of the total 2,720 patrons, they lead in the number of books borrowed. The library circulated 40,542 books during the past year. The number of children's books was 21,859 or 54 per cent. Since in many subject fields such as sport, hobbies and handicraft, children are allowed to use the adult collection also, the actual figure for juvenile use of the library would probably be higher.

THE SHELVING capacity of the library has been expanded by the purchase of 36 lineal feet of metal shelving of standard height. The extra shelving has made it possible to allocate a corner of the main reading room to books of special interest to teen-agers.

Since the teen-age collection is still in the experimental stage, the library staff plans to keep this collection fluid by placing books from both the juvenile and adult sections of the library and observing the response to their choice of materials. This new collection has already proved helpful to high school students who need varied and interesting books for their required reading.

The reference section has added a new Hammond Ambassador Atlas, Oxford Companion to the Theatre, Oxford Companion to English Literature, and the 1959 edition of Compton's Encyclopedia.

Visits Jungle Gardens

During a recent visit to the "Sun Coast" of Fla., Sophis K. Spencer, of Antioch, visited Sarasota Jungle Gardens on March 21. The visitors mingled with flamingos and other exotic wildfowl roaming uncaged amid some of Florida's scenery. During their trip the visitors walked through jungle trails bordered by huge Royal Palms, saw hundreds of different tropical plants, and watched bees actually make honey.

Flower Photog In Program At Grayslake

John Nash Ott, world famous for his pioneering and extensive work in time-lapse flower photography, will present a program at the United Protestant Church in Grayslake, Tuesday, May 12, at 8 p.m. The program is sponsored by the Mr. and Mrs. Club of the church.

Mrs. Ray T. Nicholas, a member of the club, is chairman of this special program and has made all arrangements in bringing Ott to Grayslake. Harold Wagner, club member, is chairman of ticket sales for the program.

OTT WILL PRESENT his amazing time-lapse motion picture in natural color showing the development of flowers, fruits and vegetables. Through the use of this special photographic technique developed by Ott, the normal development of a flower, fruit or vegetable appears to be speeded up many times. This makes it possible for the viewer of the picture to see the complete development cycle of a plant in a few minutes time.

In addition to presenting the unique motion picture, Ott will tell about new research he is conducting which shows the effects of light on living plant and animal cells. He will highlight the discussion by relating his own personal experience in being cured of serious arthritic condition through the influence of certain light rays. As a result of this Ott has recently been retained by the General Electric Co. to continue further research on light rays and living plant and animal tissue.

The Mr. and Mrs. Club of the United Protestant Church of Grayslake is presenting this program to the people of Lake County. Tickets for the program must be purchased in advance. They may be obtained by writing Mrs. Harry B. Friend, president, Mr. and Mrs. Club, United Protestant Church, Grayslake. Make check payable to Mr. and Mrs. Club.
